WordPress Web Design

Welcome to the home of BarbAppleStudios. My name is Martin Jordan, and I design websites for clients with sensitive budgets. The way I accomplish this is by using WordPress, and training each client how to modify and add content to their own websites.

I work with clients in the US and in the UK through various media, including Skype, and Dropbox. The initial consultation can be via video or audio, and at that time I will ascertain the type of website you are looking for. My experience in the field of web design, WordPress in particular, can help you understand where you want to go, and the type of presence you want to project on the web.

I also offer personal training classes on all aspects of web design and WordPress so that you are able to update, and change your site by yourself in the future. I will always be at hand to answer any questions you have as you move through your process and your site. A 45 minute personal training is included after the build of your site. The simplified version is as follows:

1. We talk about the type of site you need
2. I tell you what I need from you
3. I build the site and walk you through it at every stage
4. I train you how to update and change it.

It sounds simple because it is simple. So please contact me by sending me a message through my contact page which you will find on the top of this website, and I look forward to building your presence with you.
